AREA

Located in the centre of Ibiza, Santa Gertrudis is a pleasant old town that extends around an imposing whitewashed church built at the end of the XVIII century. Santa Gertrudis is a village formed by white houses and a typical Mediterranean setting and offers an original look created by artists and sculptors who, in love with the place, have contributed to its peculiar beauty.

Despite its small size, Santa Gertrudis has numerous bars and restaurants that allow you taste delicious dishes at affordable prices. The handcraft and antique shops and the quiet streets of the village complete the offer of attractions. For residents of Ibiza, Santa Gertrudis is a relaxed place to dine quietly away from the noisy atmosphere of the city, like them, travellers who want to escape the Ibizan night can enjoy a relaxed dinner here.

The exceptional situation of Santa Gertrudis, right in the middle of the island, allows us to be very well connected if our intention is to visit the island in the most comfortable way.
